Large Format Film Camera

Contact for pricing

The Graflex Speed Graphic film camera, first introduced in 1912, is one of the most iconic large-format press cameras ever made. It was widely used by press photographers from the 1930s through the 1950s due to its versatility and robust construction. This camera features a focal plane shutter, interchangeable lenses, and a rangefinder, making it ideal for capturing high-quality images on sheet film. The Speed Graphic is well-suited for movie or TV sets depicting mid-20th century journalism, war photography, or classic studio photography scenes, providing an authentic touch to any historical production
