New York City Red-Green Ruleta Traffic Signal

Contact for pricing

The New York City red-green Ruleta signal was the original traffic gamble, flashing just two colors at once and trusting drivers to figure it out. In use from the late 1920s through the 1940s and well into the postwar sprawl, these cast iron contraptions turned every intersection into a test of nerve and intuition. Perfect for period street scenes, old school NYC chaos, or any set that needs a relic from a time when traffic safety was more of a suggestion.
