Non Functional

This vintage time punch clock is housed in a beautifully crafted wooden case with a rich, warm finish and detailed molding at the top. The large, easy-to-read analog clock face, protected by a glass front, features bold black numbers and a classic design. Below the clock face, a black metal compartment holds the mechanical punch mechanism, with a slot for inserting time cards and a lever for stamping the time. Ideal for film or TV sets depicting workplace environments from the 1930s to the 1970s, this time punch clock adds an authentic period detail to any production.
