The Fender Column Speaker Horn Top is a vintage piece from Fender's PA systems, commonly used in the 1960s and 1970s. Known for clear, powerful sound, this horn top was often part of larger setups like the PA100, making it ideal for live sound reinforcement. Featuring durable construction and iconic Fender branding, it was designed for venues that needed wide sound coverage with minimal distortion. This horn top, paired with Fender's column speakers, was a popular choice for musicians and event organizers. It's perfect for film or TV sets depicting concert stages, rehearsal rooms, or recording studios from the 1960s to 1980s, adding a period-accurate touch to any music-related production. Its worn appearance and vintage aesthetic make it suitable for scenes that require a nostalgic or retro feel
