DTM-20 Rectangular Dining Table by Ray & Charles Eames for Herman Miller

$450 / week

A rectangular dining table with walnut veneered surface and folding metal legs, designed by Ray and Charles Eames and produced by Herman Miller. Dubbed the DTM-10 ("Dining Table Metal"), this example was part of a series of tables introduced in 1947, with variants in surface finish, leg construction, and shape. The DTM-10 has four polished steel legs with hairpin supports at each corner that fold to fit inside the painted wooden apron for flat storage. The underside of the table is lightly inscribed with the model number. Condition: Excellent restored condition; professionally refinished. Dimensions: 53.75" length x 33.75" depth x 28.75 height.
