Sony BVP-270/370 Studio Cameras Practical!

Contact for pricing

The red tally lights can turn on and light up on a few of the "hero" units. They look great! Qty: 7 total (4 working)
Color: As shown

The Sony BVP-270 Studio Cameras are fully restored, with working tally lights, working viewfinders. Internal electronics are all original and working. They output a SD output and they are compatible with our Camera Control Units and our working Broadcast Booth Racks. Signal can be converted for Director's monitor. Playback tech can be contacted for that. All details were meticulously restored.

Era: 1980s - 2000s

Qty: 7 total available, 4 are working* (SD Output)

*These cameras must be connected to our Broadcast Rack CCU to make them fully work. Without the racks, the camera will only have working Tally lights. No viewfinder image, and no video output. You must get the racks to fully operate this model.

* Working & practical:

* Working Tally Lights!

* Working Viewfinders!

* HD Video Output!

* Please note: These cameras MUST be connected to our Broadcast racks in order to work!
